

The Surf Club Four Seasons Private Residences is situated on eight acres of oceanfront gardens, palm stands and pathways. Designed by Pritzker Prize-winning architect Richard Meier, in collaboration with architect Kobi Karp, two transparent 12-story residential buildings and an intimate Four Seasons Hotel incorporate the historic 1930 Russell Pancoast-designed Surf Club, preserving its legendary past. Combining luxury and legendary Four Seasons service and tailoring it to match the understated elegance of this seaside location, The Surf Club Four Seasons Private Residences caters to residents' every whim, whether they are lounging in a cabana by one of four pools or dining with unimpeded vistas of the ocean.

The Surf Club Four Seasons Private Residences offers abundant options. Elegant venues in the historic Surf Club for intimate entertaining. Idyllic oceanfront public spaces and lush landscaped gardens for socializing. A sumptuous Four Seasons Spa and Wellness center with customized treatments for rejuvenation and relaxation. Yours to enjoy.
